

Transcript of Conversation between Mr. Frank G. Wisner and Richard M. Bissell, jr. 1605 - Tuesday, 10 July 1956

Mr. Wisner - "In a luncheon conversation with William H. Jackson he asked me what Dick Bissell was doing these days because he said Allen had told him that Dick Bissell would be available to consult with him and exchange ideas and provide some support to him and he had found out that Mr. Bissell was very busy. I replied that Mr. Bissell was indeed very busy in connection with work that I did not feel I should discuss. I added I did not feel it was my responsibility to reveal the nature of Mr. Bissell's present activities but that I would say one thing about it. To Wit: That if he, Mr. Jackson, were aware of what Mr. Bissell were doing, he would not be puzzled as to why it was that Mr. Bissell was difficult to get hold of. Mr. Jackson said that this answer was fully satisfactory to him and that he had no interest in pressing the inquiry. Mr. Jackson said he was not pressing."
